Don't automate everything. Automate the one task that steals the most hours.

1. List the tasks your team repeats every week.
2. Next to each, write the hours it takes and who does it.
3. Pick the biggest one from this guide.
4. Map it as trigger → steps → result on one page before touching any tool.
5. Build the simple version first, run it for two weeks, then improve it.

> Rule of thumb: if a task happens more than twice a week and follows the same steps, it's a candidate.

Workflow 01

Esipick

01

Instant lead reply

What it fixes

A lead fills your form or DMs you and waits hours for an answer. By then they've asked someone else.

How it works

Form or Instagram DM → CRM or Google Sheet → instant WhatsApp or email reply → task for your team.

Build it with

n8n or Zapier, your CRM, WhatsApp Business API

Typical setup

1–2 hours

> Founder tip: Reply within five minutes. Speed beats a perfect pitch.

02

After-hours WhatsApp assistant

What it fixes

Messages that arrive at night or on weekends sit unanswered until Monday.

How it works

WhatsApp message → AI agent answers common questions from your FAQ → offers a booking link → hands complex chats to a human.

Build it with

WhatsApp Business API, an AI model, n8n

Typical setup

Half a day

> Founder tip: Start with your 10 most-asked questions. Let it hand off everything else.

03

Booking, reminders and no-show rescue

What it fixes

People book a call and forget it. No-shows waste your best hours.

How it works

Booking → confirmation → reminder 24 hours and 1 hour before → automatic 'want to reschedule?' message if they miss it.

Build it with

Cal.com or Calendly, WhatsApp or email, n8n

Typical setup

1 hour

> Founder tip: The reschedule message recovers more calls than any reminder.

Workflow 04

04

Proposal follow-up sequence

What it fixes

Deals don't die on price. They die after the third follow-up nobody sent.

How it works

Proposal sent → follow-ups on day 2, 5 and 9, each with something new [case study, short demo, a sharp question] → stops when they reply.

Build it with

Your CRM or Gmail plus n8n or Zapier

Typical setup

1 hour

> Founder tip: Never send 'just checking in'. Each message must add something.

Workflow 05

05

Invoice → reminder → receipt

What it fixes

Chasing payments eats founder time and feels awkward.

How it works

Invoice created → polite reminders before and after the due date → payment detected → receipt and thank-you sent → status updated.

Build it with

Your accounting tool [Xero, QuickBooks, Stripe] plus n8n

Typical setup

1–2 hours

> Founder tip: Automated reminders feel neutral. Personal chasing feels personal.

Workflow 06

06

AI inbox triage

What it fixes

Your inbox mixes leads, invoices, support and noise, and you sort it by hand.

How it works

New email → AI labels it [lead, support, billing, ignore] → drafts a reply → routes it to the right person or channel.

Build it with

Gmail or Outlook, an AI model, n8n

Typical setup

Half a day

> Founder tip: Have AI draft, not send, for the first two weeks. Then trust it.

07

Weekly numbers on autopilot

What it fixes

Every Monday someone builds the same report from five tools.

How it works

Every Monday at 9 → pull numbers from CRM, sheets and payments → AI writes a three-line summary → posted to Slack or WhatsApp.

Build it with

Google Sheets, your CRM, n8n, Slack or WhatsApp

Typical setup

2 hours

> Founder tip: Track five numbers you act on, not twenty you admire.

08

Client onboarding in one click

What it fixes

New clients get a different, slower welcome every time.

How it works

Deal marked won → welcome email → folder and project board created → kickoff call booked → intake form sent.

Build it with

Your CRM, Google Drive, Trello or ClickUp, n8n

Typical setup

2–3 hours

> Founder tip: A smooth first week is your best retention tool.

09

Review and referral requests

What it fixes

Happy clients would recommend you. Nobody asks them at the right moment.

How it works

Project delivered → wait 3 days → ask for a review → if positive, ask for one referral.

Build it with

Your CRM or sheet, email or WhatsApp, n8n

Typical setup

1 hour

> Founder tip: Ask when they're happiest: right after a win, not at invoice time.

One idea, five posts

What it fixes

You know you should post more, but writing for every platform takes hours.

How it works

One voice note or long post → AI turns it into a LinkedIn post, an Instagram caption, an email and three short hooks → saved as drafts for you to approve.

Build it with

An AI model, Google Docs, n8n

Typical setup

1–2 hours

> Founder tip: Keep your voice: feed it your best past posts as examples.
